THEATRE ART IN ACTION © 2016

GRADES 9–12

Theatre: Art in Action is a true hands-on course that teaches students the basics of theatre by exploring specialized theatrical activities and techniques. By allowing them to play the roles of actor, director, designer, producer, stage crew, publicist, etc., it opens all aspects of the theatre to students. It's the perfect fit for drama classes – yet versatile enough to be used as a supplement to courses in set design and stage construction.

Theatre: Art in Action deepens students' perspectives of theatre as an art form by helping them prepare for production, rehearsal as well as their eventual performance. Specific chapters include:

- Job Shadow, highlighting various careers for which a theatrical education could prove to be significant
- Careers and Theatre, featuring inspirational profiles of various theatre professionals discussing their jobs – and how they got them
