

Direct Instruction Programs

Professional Learning Solutions for Schools in the UK

Our Professional Learning Framework

McGraw Hill UK provides a tiered professional learning pathway for Direct Instruction (DI) programs to support successful classroom delivery and sustainable outcomes. To provide consistent, high quality training, we partner with experienced Direct Instruction trainers across the UK. All Professional Learning is booked through McGraw Hill, with the most appropriate trainer or training organisation selected based on your school's location and specific needs..

Featured Programs

Professional Learning is available for the following DI programs:

- Spelling Mastery
- Connecting Math Concepts
- Corrective Reading
- Reading Mastery
- Expressive Writing

Simply select your programme and then select the package option that best suits your needs.

(See Page 4.)

Professional Learning is essential for the successful implementation of any new curriculum resource. This is why we work with schools to find the best solution to fit your needs. Below is an outline of what we offer:

Paid Professional Learning

Professional Learning is conducted by professional trainers with extensive classroom experience using DI programmes. All partner trainers meet McGraw Hill's professional learning standards. These facilitators ensure schools are trained to implement programmes with fidelity and success.

Options 1 and 2 (Full Day and Half Day) are designed to be delivered onsite, either at your school or at a designated training location located as close as possible to your school.

Options 3 and 4 (Full Day Package Online and Half Day Package Online) are designed for schools that prefer the flexibility of online delivery, including those in remote locations.

Option 5 (Booster Package Online) is a focused workshop designed to revisit key teaching techniques, strengthen instructional delivery and address specific implementation needs.

All aspects of the training will be designed and confirmed with your school and the trainer to ensure the most cost-efficient and flexible delivery to suit your needs.

Meet Our Training Partners

Alycia Kidwell

Alycia is a McGraw Hill Academic Specialist in Intervention and Supplemental and an experienced international trainer. A former special education teacher and director, she has taught Direct Instruction programmes extensively. She works with educators around the world, drawing on that classroom and leadership experience to build confidence in programme delivery, assessment and effective intervention.

Sarah Green

Sarah brings extensive experience of teaching and supporting Direct Instruction in schools to her professional learning sessions. She can offer both initial training and ongoing implementation coaching. Sarah focuses on helping teachers build their confidence, put programmes into practice consistently and respond to pupils' ongoing progress. She has worked as a SENDCO, assistant head, Maths' lead and as a SEND education advisor for the local authority.

Kim Flynn

Kim has taught Direct Instruction to Key Stage 3 and 4 pupils in the UK for more than eight years and works as a trainer with the National Institute for Direct Instruction. Her sessions draw on classroom experience to help teachers build confidence with programme delivery and support pupils who need additional help.

Scheduling Guidelines and Policies

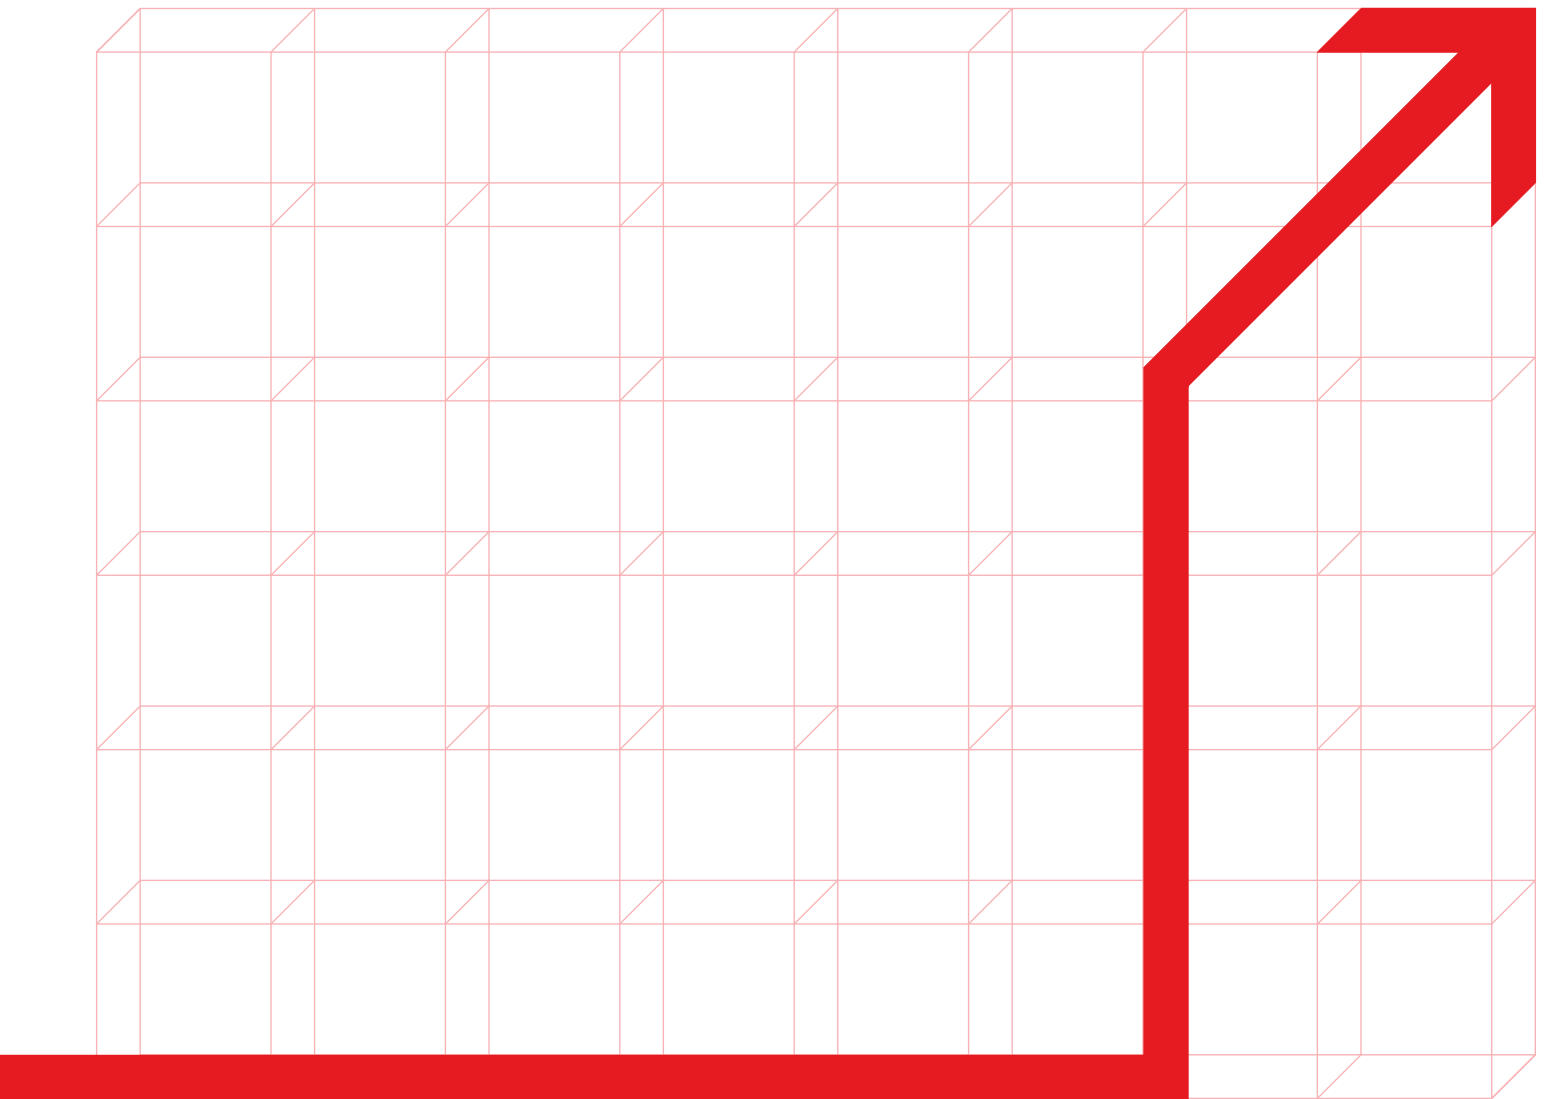

- All training sessions must be booked through your McGraw Hill Learning Solutions Consultant. Your consultant will work with you to determine the best training package to suit your needs, school size and location.
- A booking form will be completed by you to confirm the training package and preferred dates for the training.
- Training will be invoiced once the booking form has been signed by both parties.
- Sessions can be scheduled to suit your school - either spread over multiple afternoons or combined into one full-day session for convenience.
- We will do our best to accommodate your preferred dates, but may not always be able to meet exact dates based on availability of trainers. In-person training is not available in all states due to trainer availability.
- Where a specified date/dates cannot be met, we will work with you to find an alternative.

Lead Times:

- Cancellation and Rescheduling Policy:
 - On-site training cancelled within 7 business days cannot be rescheduled.
 - Virtual training cancelled within 2 business days cannot be rescheduled.
 - Cancellations made earlier will be rebooked on the next available date.
 - Weather or school closure cancellations will be rescheduled at no cost.
 - Professional Learning Days expire within 12 months for the In-Person Packages, and within 6 months for the Online Packages.

Terms and Conditions

- Schools must ensure staff availability and participation.
- Training is invoiced and paid through McGraw Hill.
- McGraw Hill may assign alternate qualified facilitators if required.
- All materials are © McGraw Hill and may not be shared externally.
- Sessions align with McGraw Hill professional learning standards.
- Training attendees will be required to fill out a post-training survey to provide feedback on the training received and to confirm training has taken place within the specified timeframes.
